Membership increase

We have seen a great increase in membership at the start of this new year especially with the number of young people joining. I want to take this opportunity to reiterate what NBU is all about.

We believe in localism, people working in their own home-towns, in their own communities. People getting involved with their communities and becoming leaders in their own communities. Going on coach trips to demonstrate hundreds of miles away from where you live is a fruitless waste of time. Waiting every five years to vote for whatever nationalist party is actually standing in your ward is also a complete waste of time. If you want change then you have to be prepared to work for it or at least support those who are willing to work for it. The quiet revolution has been explained in our literature and in video and it is working, more members are coming forward to stand as 'independent' candidates in elections. Under our slogan 'people not politicians'.

The political class have forsaken you, they take no notice what so ever of your marches and demonstrations and they have completely destroyed the credibility of the old nationalist parties who just managed to poll votes in the double figures now!

Who knows better than you the problems your home-town faces? Find a cause and fight for it, fight for the people you live with, fight for family and friends forget the rest of the country concentrate all your efforts on your little bit of Britain, an independent candidate but a part of a greater movement, a movement of people not politicians, a movement of new Fascism, and together step by step we will build a better Britain.

NEW BRITISH FASCISM

British Fascism is a revolutionary movement, and Fascists must live in the spirit of revolution. We seek to achieve that revolution through the future vote of the people for good reasons. We are the better revolutionaries because we employ legal methods of persuasion and conviction.

This is the difference between revolutions that succeed and those that fail. No revolution can endure that does not rest on the will of the people, to create a new civilisation they must stabilise revolution. That can not be done without the consent and co-operation of the people, and without it revolution means nothing and our labours would be in vain.

No one who understands Fascism would strive to impose Government upon the people against their will. Their Government must rest on the willing consent of the people or it will fail.

Those who represent Fascism as the violent seizure of power by a minority against the will of the people entirely misunderstand and misrepresent its true character. Those are methods of the past which only survive in small countries which have temporarily succumbed to a military coup d'etat. The character of British Fascism differs completely from such methods of the past.

New British Union is a movement of revolution of authority and discipline. But the discipline is voluntary willingly accepted by a free people for the great purpose of national regeneration. It is the choice of people who have learnt the obvious lesson that to pull together gives greater strength than to pull apart.

The leadership principle of Fascism is the acceptance of the equally plain fact that direction must come from some authority if any complex operations or corporate purpose is to succeed. Fascism, in fact, is the creed of a nation that has discarded the illusion of childhood that freedom rests in everyone talking at once and each individual pursuing what appears to be their personal interest regardless of the common welfare. In national affairs as in the daily business of adult individuals we will substitute the obligations of manhood for the anarchy of the nursery.

Fascism is a revolution of the mind and spirit and must be bought to the people as a whole, we have to use not only every instrument of propaganda, but the faith within us to convert the mass of the people. Fascism is the leadership of a dedicated minority who by the force of their will and conviction will convert a whole people to a new world idea. In our ranks we illustrate this voluntary discipline, the self abnegation and the acceptance of leadership. By the force of these principles we have built a nation wide movement. This is the creed of revolutionaries dedicated to a faith and bound together by Fascist Brotherhood.

I am a company director based in Newcastle. I was a member of the BNP from the ages 18-22. Went to the Scottish meetings with Nick Griffin at the Swallow Hotel in 2003 where I first met Gary. However, as with many I became disenfranchised with the BNP, I left and joined the WNP with a few local boys but my stay there was very short lived as there was no real direction it disbanded.

After a break from far right politics I joined the conservatives, paid member for a few years right up until I watched the leaders YouTube video and came across the

New British Union I realised me and my family and indeed all our youth deserve a fascist future.

I'm regional officer for North East England now and thoroughly enjoying my role and time in the NBU. I have immersed myself with the doctrines of Mussolini and Sir Oswald (more Mosley than Benito).

I embrace the fascist brand and everything that goes with it. I feel we can all do a lot more to bring it to the forefront anyone wishing to contact me can do so through the website.

I am 45 years old, married with four children (2 girls and 2 Boys), three of whom are now adults while my youngest son is 12 and has just started his first year in secondary school. We live in Bristol and both myself and my wife both work full time.

The leader has a great vision not just Mosley ideas but his own. Being loyal to Leader and party is not only my duty and honour it is a good time to be fascist and be proud of our party.

I am 45 years old, married with four children (2 girls and 2 Boys), three of whom are now adults while my youngest son is 12 and has just started his first year in secondary school. We live in Bristol and both myself and my wife both work full time.

Like many of the people that have joined our organisation I increasingly found that the city I have lived in all my life has becoming alien to me and the country as a whole seems to be slowly but surely changing and not for the better.

Bristol like so many cities up and down the breadth of Britain is suffering from a huge and unsustainable population increase. Bristol

now has according to the local council 91 languages spoken within the city limits in our governments track record contrast you can compare this to 30 years ago when there was only 5 officially recognised by the council and these peoples/languages came from colonial or commonwealth countries. This increase in uncontrolled immigration has now brought our country to its knees, schools housing, hospitals every social program created to better the lives of the British has been overwhelmed and underfunded by consecutive governments. I see first hand the pressures put upon the NHS by non-native peoples from the Europe which is causing the breakdown of this once great institution. I would like to add that this pressure on services is not coming from the indigenous British/Europeans themselves but as a result of open border policies implemented by politicians on both sides of the political spectrum who favour communist/socialist ideas and globalist banking agendas over the prosperity and welfare of the once great British people. LIb/Lab/Con governments and EU laws over the last 30 years has helped create this fractured and broken society we live in today. Brexit was a push back from the British people against these policies. I hope Brexit will happen and be of benefit to the people but with our governments track record I am a little worried it will just end up a Brexit on there terms not ours. I like most people are fed up with the constant rhetoric from politicians about the benefits of immigration.....Its a LIE ! An example of this is about 10 years ago the the Labour government purposely and knowingly stopped nurses training for native British people this then lead after a few years to a country wide nursing shortage which was then filled with cheap foreign healthcare workers from abroad. It was all done to lower the wages and prosperity of the doctors and nurses and healthcare professionals already in this country and to save the government money. The savings from this was then filtered away to the corrupt EU and other useless causes. This decision in turn reduced care and standards across the country massively. This same government tactic has been used across most professions including teaching, Information Technology as well as traditional trades (plumbers, electricians etc). This brings me to why I joined The NBU, looking at all these challenges the country faces from jobs, immigration, housing, schools the list goes on... I knew it was time to stop complaining about things and get out there and make a positive change. This change can only come about by reshaping the entire political process and as Mosley himself once said "the only way is the third way" and that my friends is the Fascist state. I know we have a massive mountain to climb as most of our people don't really understand Fascism all they know is the Hollywood version spun to them through biased school curriculums and false media narratives. Blackshirts and Fascists are not evil world dominating monsters, we are intelligent, articulate people who want the best for our loved ones our country and ultimately our people. It is not an easy thing to go against what mainstream beliefs are, to stand proud and say to people " I am a Fascist and I believe in my country and people" but those that do shine a light in the darkness that others can follow. Our people need to awaken from this media dominated coma they have been living in and it is our job, no it is our responsibility to awaken as many as we can and show them that this system of government (democracy) that fools them into believing the government works in there interests and on their behave is False, all the governments in the west world care about is concentrating power and wealth to a few privileged elites be it themselves or their financial masters.

I wont lecture any of you on Fascism as I hope we all know about that already but I would like to say that all of us are individuals so are Fascist views will differ slightly from person to person, so rather than argue over the small differences like a lot of other nationalist groups tend to do we need to pull together, close ranks and become true proud Blackshirts under the direction of the Leader.

If we do this and stand strong together nothing is unachievable and we will be able to move forward together and save our great nation from those who wish to do it harm.

Robert Clayton
NBU America

My name is Robert Clayton. I am a retired civil servant, and live in New York. I first became interested in British fascism as a teenager, when I was fortunate enough to have seen a televised interview of Sir Oswald Mosley. Democracy has failed Western Civilization. We are losing our countries to third-world immigrants, and may one day be minorities in our own homelands. Moreover, by allowing the infiltration of our countries by jihadists, the political elite of our countries have committed the greatest betrayal in history. Muslim immigration in and of itself, even absent violent jihad, will one day destroy our societies if current immigration and birthrate trends continue. In the United States, Muslims, by virtue of a majority population, will one day dominate the U.S. Congress, only Muslims will be elected president, Sharia Law will be imposed, and my grandchildren will be offered the choice of conversion to Islam or death. Those who do not believe this need only observe in their own communities how many new mosques are opening. Many of these mosques are former churches. I believe that the English-speaking countries, particularly the U.K. and the U.S., can together save Western Civilization from Islamization. I believe that NBU has the potential to play a major role in this crusade, and I am honoured to accept this appointment.

HAVE YOUR SAY

Welcome to issue 7 of The Blackshirt the first of this new year which features letters from our latest members.

I am currently a member of UKIP, but fond myself dissatisfied by their current actions and lack of a charismatic leader.

I am taking a huge step in what I secretly believe to be the right direction, with the full knowledge of fascism's unpopularity. I aim to become physically capable and well read to defend, not just myself, but the family unit, British freedoms and the rights which we as individuals must protect ourselves.

I doubt this risk of popularity that I take in becoming part of the NBU is one that I will regret, and I look forward to this movement being realised for the true alternative path that it is. Hail victory and hail the Britain of tomorrow that we should strive towards.

Thank you so much for your email and let me just say what a joy it was to read the booklet.

I'm relieved to at last hear that others share my views on British life and how we should move forward for the future of the next generations. So I would like to say you have my support and help in any way I can with building this long awaited for movement.

Europe is a dying continent. Britain is a dying country. Those who rule us care nothing for our lives, and only want our destruction.

Our culture is being tainted by politically correct poison, which allows other cultures to come here and dominate. This is a problem. Capitalist consumerism reduces the average British citizen into a slave for products that we don't need, the central banks place all western nations into a endless cycle of debt. The only mainstream opposition to this is communism, an equally vile and destructive ideology. I'm not prepared to sit back and allow this to happen.

Action must be taken, national action, and it starts with people like me. The advocates of the cancerous ideologies that make us slaves must be named and removed. All those who are a threat to sovereignty must be named and hopefully removed. I will see my people freed.

As I have said before I cannot, as an English Nationalist, agree with everything about the NBU but their enthusiasm and ideas really put all other Nationalist groups to shame. Then again I have always thought that uniforms, flags and marching songs help to unify folk.

G.S

I have taken up the call and will be standing as a independent candidate in the local elections this year. I have received my info pack and just want to thank you, I feel at last that I am really doing something positive NBU are clearly the way forward for real patriots

At last a movement that knows what it is doing,

I will not be renewing my membership with the party I am with as I pay my fees and hear nothing from them unless its for more money! NBU all the way.

The fastest growing patriotic movement in Britain today

Within the year I will be turning twenty-one, thousands like myself, school friends of yesterday, have grown up ready to take our place in society. We smile with the optimism of youth, while the older generation criticise us freely – our bad habits, fashion and unconventional attitude to life, and many other things.

Yes, we smile, but behind our smiling faces lie somewhat bitter hearts, and dogged determination to win through despite the crisis and chaos which the political class have bought about.

The lessons of the past combined with the environment which we have been bought upon has prepared us to sacrifice all in our efforts to turn the tremendous sacrifice of our forefathers, at present futile, to one of triumph. They died "that we might live". We shall live, live for an idea and not rest till we have achieved, for we are out to build a Greater Britain of which they would be proud.

We who yesterday were the future generation are today the present, and in our hands lies the future of tomorrow. Our hearts are bitter, we are no longer satisfied with emotional outbursts of old liberal Marxists, we demand logic and action.

This is why Fascism is sweeping over Britain, why the youth are daily swelling the Blackshirt ranks in their hundreds. They know that in Fascism is a policy of logic harnessed to action. They know that it is the only policy which can save Britain and the honour of our sacred dead. Therefore they unite and are bound together in a common cause.

We have the necessary determination, the spirit of our county men who died and those who returned, and are out to fight the greatest war ever fought. A war against lethargy and apathy, misrule and chaos, a war in which we shall destroy greed, envy, hate and distrustfulness, and replace them by brotherliness, goodwill and true citizenship.

NBU have lit the "Flame Invisible" and it will never die. From heart to heart it will spread until this land which we love so well is purged of filth and corruption and Britain once again becomes Great.

DEMOCRACY

Serving the Elite

The fastest growing patriotic movement in Britain today

Last year I began to take an interest in the economic situation of Britain,

I took a closer look at the political situation at the same time. The germ of distrust and fear was planted in my mind, and there it found a fertile soil. My ambitions began to fade, I saw no hope of progress with the good ship UK steered by a crew composed of out of touch toffs and traitors, rocked by the red wave of discontent, and also ran in the race for the port of world supremacy.

Today, however, my ambitions have been renewed and my faith in Britain has increased, for I have seen the advent of a new force which will, I am confident, bring back our country to the peak of prosperity, strength for her tribulations, and triumph over her difficulties. My hopes have been rekindled by Fascism.

I was aware of the presence of new fascism in the world of political activity, but that was all. Like my friends I was totally dis-interested in politics at the time. I did not agree with the communist element that infested my University in the midst of normally sane, healthy-minded people. I had and still have a supreme contempt for these mob-law anti-British reds.

And then arose the New British Union of Fascists. I was impressed and had several serious talks with a Fascist of my acquaintance. I was then convinced that it was my duty to join NBU and to try to persuade my friends to do likewise, I therefore dedicated myself to the cause and became a Fascist.

Although a member of only two months I am proud of the NBU and of its leader. Here in the North it is making progress, it is obvious to all patriotic and sensible Britons, and especially to our youth, that it is the only solution and will finally emerge triumphant to bring Britain to peace and prosperity once more.

Young NBU member

Dear Editor
I'm writing in regards of the headline on page 7, 'Disgusting rubbish piled on street, stops children from playing' 16/01/17.

.....Shocking isn't it?, well not really, you see, what I'm going to say, may sit uncomfortable with certain types of people, who choose to be ' blinkered from facts'. Let me explain... The Normanton region of Derby was once a well healed area, where the likes of doctors, bankers & white collar professional folks lived, this was up until around the mid 1950s, when the first wave of ' uncontrolled immigration' came into Derby (and Britain in general) aboard HMS Windrush'. Many of these incomers settled in Normanton, and caused great anxiety and distress amongst the Indigenous residents, thus in turn caused ' white flight ' seeing many Derbians move to another part of the city which hadn't yet been ' culturally enriched'. As the years rolled on and more foreigners came, who largely where descendants from third world uncivilized countries, the area's became ghettos & true to type , the English Suburbia deteriorated until they resembled something like Nairobi, instead of Normanton.

You see, it doesn't matter where the immigrant hordes descend from, they still have ' third world mentality' and see nothing wrong with dumping rubbish on the streets, because it's what they would do in their own country. So until the immigrant problem is reversed, things will never improve, no matter how much of British taxpayers money is wasted on addressing the ' litter/dumping issue'. Sad but true.

Michael Sharpe.

The fastest growing patriotic movement in Britain today

It is distressing to realise how widespread and great is the loss of that power of national unity which once attracted the admiration of all who came to Britain and made this nation determined to carry on against any odds.

In the past great storms of bloodshed and misery, poverty and disaster, have loomed blackly over our heads. Cannons have boomed, and brought our sons to heroic deaths. The lightening of intrigue has played and darted with vicious intent towards the Motherland. But the men and women of Britain have stood fast, shoulder to shoulder, conscious of their unity, facing whatever came with calm deliberation because they knew that where they stood, stood Britain.

Ready to die should the grim necessity arise, they faced what must have seemed insurmountable obstacles. Common misery was faced with common resolve. They united to preserve national integrity from disruption.

In unity lies strength, as has been proven a million times. But today? We have little or no national life, weary and disheartened from enforced multiculturalism our Britain is split and broken unconscious of the national strength that could be ours.

On all sides our enemies press grimly on, determined to bring the once glorious Britain down into ruin. Fighting the hardest battle we ever faced we are disunited, without the strength of that unity and mutual co-operation which made us the leading nation of the world.

We have an inept government, without strength of purpose or ability, run by men who sold their national birthright upon the planks of party platforms. These men entrusted by the nation to rule and give justice have led us to ruin by jumping like puppets whenever their masters have pulled strings, have tricked and deluded the entire country, so that all the dignity and fair-play it once represented lie trampled in the dust of their dirty, scheming individual careers.

LEADERS NEW YEAR MESSAGE

In New British Union men and women have joined together in rediscovering the greatest idea this country has ever known.

An idea so great and so dear to them that the storms of violence, of victimization, of every form of abuse and attack have hardened them and created a comradeship more durable, more splendid in its spirit than anything that has yet been conceived by man.

Those who came to join the struggle found a new joy, a new idea, a new life. Their hopes and aspirations became one with the hopes and aspirations of their creed, no line divides them from their movement, they are one, one hope, one spirit. It is this spirit that has prompted our members to make great sacrifices.

What prevents a united people marching into their heritage? The national press is one stream of lies, the press which is controlled and abused by the money-power. The propagandist depravities of the BBC, poisoning the minds of this generation, polluting the minds of our children. Every trick and twist to delude and fool the people, not only with lies but with apathy. The needle of apathy thrust into the arteries of the nation to keep them quiet, to stop them from possessing what is rightly theirs, because the British people in possession of their own means the dispossession of the exploiter and the usurper. If we can achieve British Union as we did in the last two world wars, when we were lit by the radiance of that moment in the courageous determination of all that a great nation should live and be free, if today we can achieve that union, not for purposes of destruction, but for purposes of creation and construction, if we can but bring together this great and inspired people in British union and light them again with the resolve to live and be great, then let all the forces of decadence come against us, let all the forces of evil strike at us in vain. But one thing must be, the union of the people. Because salvation will come from the people alone, it won't come from the press or money-power, or the parties kept by the money-power. Salvation must come from the people, and that is how the birth and dawn of Union has come! At the end of this second year it spreads across a nation, all the forces of decadence huddling in coalition and trying every means to check us if they can, have failed. We see before us the land which we can make our own, the land our fore-fathers won. If we have the manhood and the courage to hold it, to preserve that heritage for our people which was bequeathed to us, an opportunity for the present from our own great past.

The urge of our people to march into their mighty heritage finds expression in the modern movement of the British union, which rises above a corrupt system ruled by the political elite. With us is the heart of our people, and the urge of our people, to march on, in strength, in union at last to scatter the handful of enemies and break the shackles that bind us.

The nation, composed as it is of individuals, each possessing their own political opinions, is suffering from a thorough lack of singleness of purpose. It is in that lethargic state where differences of intention and confusion of aims slow any possibility of a return to prosperity. It is even doubtful if the best and well disposed citizens realise that, while they admit there is something wrong somewhere they are making no effort to find a way out, and still less trouble themselves to exercise their minds on the matter.

For centuries we have had ceaseless talk, talk, talk in the Houses of parliament, it is becoming increasingly obvious that they are failing to function as the safeguard of democracy. Whose country is this? Does it belong to those who love it and who are prepared to sacrifice their all and are doing so in its interests. Or does it belong to those who put the contemptible notion of party bigotry before the interests of the nation.

There can be no justification for the assertion at this stage in the history of a formerly great and prosperous industrial nation that every party has a right to try its hand at its own methods.

Without the will of the people directed and raised to the patriotic rendering of service to the community before self and party legislation is powerless. Raise the spirit of the people to that, and you have the safeguard of the nation accomplished.

Will you prove yourselves true Britons and be fearless and be 'up and up them', or will others with a greater animation and a truer fighting spirit have to show the way? We British Fascists may not have numerical power but we are not lacking in the will and in the spirit. Our flesh is not weak. We will lead if you are willing to follow, make British Fascism a reality in 2017.

Gary Raikes

OUR TIME WILL COME

Since the start of this year we have seen an increase in people calling for action, to take to the streets, fight back etc, etc. I want to make it clear that none of them speak for NBU. Promoting and supporting violence will lead to proscription of groups and imprisonment of individuals. The breaking of the law will result in rightful repercussions. NBU fully supports law and order not to do so would go against everything Mosley stood for. Hate filled rants on social media do nothing to further our cause, in fact they have the opposite effect.

If you wish to help then get involved in your local communities and take our message to your people on a grass-roots level, do something for and in your own community, you have to put something in before you get anything back. There is no quick fix and can be no wins at the ballot box without laying foundations. The age of nationalist parties in Britain is over UKIP are now positioning themselves as the alternative party, the anti-establishment vote, the populist party. It is up to us to build a real movement of patriots while sham democracy is being played out. We must become the real alternative to the political elite for it is they who are our enemy and thus the enemy of the people. Our time will come if we are willing to work for it and the first step is to unite under the NBU 'people not Politicians' banner, come together in 'Action in Unity' the symbol of the Flash and Circle of New British Fascism and help lead our country to a brighter future. Localism is the way forward.
